Alberta Pool Notes

The Alberta Wheat Pool has made its final payment, this being 2 1/2 cents per bushel for wheat delivered to the 1923-24 Pool, except for a few minor grades. The total of this payment was $1,565,693.88.

The Pool paid the following prices for wheat delivered from the 1927 crop: 1 Northern $1.43 1/4; 2 Northern $1.43 1/4; 3 Northern $1.25 1/4; No. 4 $1.19 1/4; No. 5 $1.01 1/4; No. 6 72c; Feed, 58 1/2c.

When the Wheat Pool distributed its second interim payment last July, 4c per bushel were retained to provide for elevator reserve, commercial reserve and administration cost. It was found but 3 1/2 c per bushel were required for these purposes so the surplus of 1/2 c balance was included in the final payment along with the 2 1/2 c per bushel received from the Central Selling Agency.

The Farmer and the Research Worker

The prairie provinces of Canada have completed the harvesting and threshing of the greatest grain crops in the history of Canada, judged from the standpoint of volume. It is conservatively estimated that the wheat crop alone will not be less than 500,000,000 bushels, and that the other four principal grains, oats, rye, barley and flax, will add close to another 500,000,000 bushels to the total bringing Canada grain yield for the first time within measurable distance of a billion bushel crop.

In almost every respect the season of 1928 was ideal from the standpoint of seeding, growing, cutting and threshing and the acreage seeded showed a substantial increase over former years. There was an absence of rust and other parasites, ample moisture, taking the country as a whole, and generally an absence of those conditions which result in a lowering of yield. The only fly in the ointment was the killing frosts of the third week in August which caught the later sown crops and those which, from one cause or another had not matured. The result was disastrous from the standpoint of grades, and consequently materially lowering in prices of a large part of the total production.

According to a rough estimate of the Saskatchewan crop it is stated that about one-third of the wheat will be of the contract grades of 1, 2 and 3 northern, that another one-third will grade number 4, and that the remaining one-third will grade below that figure.

It is within the power of our farmers to partly offset the losses occasioned by dry seasons through the adoption of the most scientific methods of farming; they can increase yields and grades by using good seed, and by sowing continuous winter or noxious weeds; they can insure their crops against hail. But they stand helpless before the icy clutch of Jack Frost.

Addressing the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, at Regina, recently, Hon. W. E. McEwen said he knew of only one way to best Jack Frost, and that was to get ahead of him. He had reference to the development of wheat with earlier ripening qualities. In this connection he mentioned the valuable time gained through the development of Marquis over the old Red Fife, and brought the cheering message that as a result of the experiments this year with Garnet Reward, there was every expectation that a further notable advance would be made. According to Mr. McEwen, where Reward wheat was grown by farmers in all the prairie provinces, under arrangements with the Department of Agriculture, in over 90 per cent. of cases Reward was safely in stock before the August frosts. He expressed himself as quite hopeful that western farmers would yet be in a position where they could and would beat Jack Frost.

Experiments have been conducted for some time past to determine to what extent the drying process for damp wheat affects milling and baking qualities, and recent announcement is to the effect that, on the whole, the quality of the wheat is not seriously affected.

Now the University of the three western provinces and the Dominion Research officials are engaged in determining the effect which frost has on milling and baking qualities. Hundreds of farmers this year have had the experience of marketing wheat, weighing the full sixty pounds or more to the bushel but which, because of frost effect on the grain, has been graded away below what would otherwise have been obtained. Right or wrong there is an impression that this frost, while marring the appearance of the kernel, does not seriously affect the quality of the grain. The fact of maintaining a loss all out of proportion to the amount of damage done the grain; that, in fact, while the farmer-producer loses, the miller gains because he secures good milling wheat at a much less cost. The scientists are now striving to get at the real truth of the matter.

These are research workers for Governments and Universities working hand in hand with the farmers in endeavoring to advance the interests and prosperity of agriculture—through the development of earlier ripening grains, the elimination of rust, and in determining the actual effects of moisture and frost on the true commercial value of grain. The effort is to save hundreds of millions of dollars to the agriculturists of Canada.

Canada is spending more money than ever before in scientific research work, and the Dominion Government announces that such expenditures will be still further increased. No body of men in the Dominion stands to gain more from such work and expenditures than do the farmers of the West. The whole weight of their influence should be back of this enlightened policy.

Made Commander in Royal Naval Reserve

Canadian Awarded V.C. in Great War
The promotion of Lieut. Commander Ronald Neil Stuart, V.C., D.S.O., a Canadian, now in the Royal Naval Reserve, to rank of commander, recalls the thrilling exploit for his participation in which Commander Stuart received the highest decoration for bravery in the gift of his sovereign. Stuart was one of two Canadians awarded the Victoria

Cross while serving in the Royal Navy during the great war, the other being Lieut. H. Bourke, of Nelson, B.C.

The action for which Commander Stuart was honored was published in the London Gazette, dated Nov. 20, 1918, seventeen months after the event, and it was under provision 13 of the Royal Warrant which enables a ship's company to select members of their personnel for the distinction that the Canadian was awarded the Victoria Cross. The action was described as follows: "On the night of the 10th of October, 1917, the ship was engaged in a battle with a German submarine. The ship was hit by a torpedo and was sinking. The ship's company was ordered to abandon ship. The ship's company was ordered to abandon ship. The ship's company was ordered to abandon ship."

The bush ships were a product of anti-submarine campaign. They carried coils, freighters, merchantmen, yachts and even fishing smacks carrying concealed armaments and specially selected crews.

HARVESTER PLAN WAS A SUCCESS STATES AMERY

London, England. — Satisfaction that the great majority of British minor harvesters were employed under satisfactory conditions and that reports of generally bad treatment cannot be substantiated is expressed by Right Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, secretary of state for the colonies, in a letter to Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, chairman of the Labor party, made public here.

Mr. Amery's letter was in reply to one from Mr. Henderson in which the former home secretary said the attention of the national executive committee of the Labor party had been called to "various serious statements" regarding conditions under which the minors were employed and the treatment they received in Western Canada.

An officer was sent from England to Canada, and was still there, to deal with sickness and cases of gonorrhea personal misfortune, Mr. Amery said. He mentioned that the harvester was adversely affected under the national insurance scheme.

"No doubt some exceptional hardship have occurred—and indeed ability to face some degree of hardship is indispensable—but I am satisfied that no general conditions of bad treatment can be substantiated," Mr. Amery wrote.

"I am also satisfied that the great majority of harvesters got work under satisfactory conditions."

'Plane Crashes In Hudson Bay Area

Machine Forced To Land and One Man Reported Killed

Toronto.—A special despatch to the Toronto Star from The Pas, Man., says that one motorist, on a Hudson Bay exploration party is dead, and another badly broken as a result of a plane crash in a forced landing in the Hudson Bay area.

The Star's despatch follows: "One member of the Northern Aerial Mail Exploring prospecting party is dead and another prospecting party is badly broken and is in a critical condition according to word reaching The Pas. The men were in the Hudson's Bay area seeking minerals and are believed to be members of a party being transported by airplane to a new field, on which a known as the North Plane. The plane, forced to land, it is understood crashed on a reef."

"Word of the precarious position of the men on the plane was radioed to a Dominion government tug operating in the Hudson's Bay District. It at once rushed to the scene of the wreck and was able to rescue six of the men on the plane. The fate of the pilot in charge has not yet been learned."

"As soon as word of the fatality reached here Captain Baker was ordered by plane to render all possible aid."

Plans were made for a minimum of two complete Scout troops, the final size of the contingent to depend upon the number of boys it was possible to draw from each province.

Tuberculosis In Cattle

Disease Being Eradicated By Means Of Restricted Areas

Ottawa, Ont.—Tuberculosis in Canadian cattle is rapidly being eradicated through the operation of the restricted area plan. Dr. George Hilton, veterinary director-general of the department of agriculture, declares.

Where in some areas as high as 7.9 per cent of cows had been found infected on the first tests, re-tests had shown a general falling off to approximately one-half of one per cent.

"There is a persistent and increasing demand upon the department for restricted areas," Dr. Hilton said.

"Farmers have found that by replacing infected animals with high class stock they receive greater financial returns with less work."

Unemployment Insurance

Question To Come Up For Consideration When Ottawa House of Commons Session

Ottawa, Ont.—Unemployment insurance, which was the subject of investigation by the industrial committee of the House of Commons last session, will be given further consideration when parliament convenes again. This assurance was given by Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, who stated that the majority of the provinces of the Dominion already had declared themselves upon the proposal.

In its report the industrial relations committee accepted and endorsed the principle of unemployment insurance, based on compulsory contributions derived from the state, the employer and the employee. The report further pointed out that the responsibility for such legislation primarily rested with the provincial governments.

On the basis of the committee's findings the department of labor communicated with the various provinces to ascertain which of them would be prepared to consider adopting the principle and to what extent they were willing to go at the present time. Mr. Heenan intimated that these replies would be submitted to parliament at the next session. The minister refused to divulge the views of the provinces in the matter.

Winston Churchill Joins Union

Chancellor Of Exchequer Is Identified With British Trade Workers

London, Eng.—Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, who made quite a reputation as a bricklayer while handling a trowel in the building operations at his home in Kent last summer, has made himself one with his fellow craftsmen by joining the Amalgamated Union of Building Trades Workers.

The chancellor, who paid his entrance fee by which he will receive his union card shortly.

Notifying the new recruit to trades union ranks that he will be pleased to see him at a meeting, said E. F. Lane, divisional secretary, sent Mr. Churchill a copy of the rules of the union, a fee of five shillings and a weekly contribution of nine pence.

"The Lane wrote, 'unites you in addition to trade protection to one pound a week should you be called out on strike and additional unemployment benefits should you at any time fall out of employment.'"

Under the regulations any one employed by the chancellor as a bricklayer in future must pay him the minimum wage.

At all marketing costs and all deductions for commercial and elevator reserves were made from the interim payment, the Pool's share was $2,572,105.89.

Canadian Residents Working In U.S. Are Not Immigrants According To Ruling

Washington, D.C.—Order eighty-six of the United States immigration department may be formally repealed within the next week or so. Pro-mulgated on April 1, 1927, the order required immigration officials at the Supreme Court of the United States technically nullified by refusing to render the judgment of a New York circuit court of appeals, setting aside its provision that Canadian residents working on the U.S. side of the border are really immigrants, and must conform to all requirements of the U.S. immigration laws.

A WELCOME FOR SETTLERS FROM THE BRITISH ISLES

London, Eng.—"No bigger truth was ever offered in respect to a nation and a country than to say that Canada does not wish to have immigrants from the British Isles," Premier Mackenzie King of Canada declared emphatically in the course of a lengthy speech on Canada's immigration question and diplomatic representation abroad at the annual banquet of the Canadian club here.

"Not only do we wish to have but we are prepared to advance money for their passage and indeed in some cases pay the entire passage for those whose labor we specially need," the Canadian Premier stressed after outlining the prosperity of Canada at present and the exceptional opportunities the Dominion held for migrants.

Winnipeg, Man.—A former Saskatchewan farm hand is now visiting the west under circumstances which can best be described as offering several varieties of wit and contrast. At this moment, he is a stage celebrity.

Between the date of his earlier exertions at Indian Head and his present visit to the same vicinity, he has played in China, Japan, Burma, from Cairo to Singapore, and from South Africa to London. During the war, he served under General Smuts in the campaign against German East Africa and later, as a junior lieutenant in France.

He has previously been starred in London, but this present year makes the first occasion on which he has added the theatrical heights for an international tour.

LEGATIONS AS A SYMBOL OF OUR GOODWILL

London.—Premier Mackenzie King of Canada, addressing the King Club here, made the following statement, explanatory of the motives which prompted the establishment of Canadian legations at Washington and Paris.

"It is a desire to gain the advantage in international negotiation of diplomatic standing and status for whoever lobby may be representing Canada's interests in the United States and France, and for whoever may succeed to that high responsibility in the years to come."

"Next it is to provide means of more effective consultation and co-operation between the British and Canadian governments on matters in the United States and in France which are of use of common interest and concern."

"But over and above all else in the hope devoutly cherished that the Canadian legation at Washington, the British legation at Paris, and in France may serve increasingly as a reminder of the near relationship our country has with these great countries and to this old land."

"In the United States our legation, we trust will stand as a symbol of Anglo-Saxon friendship and goodwill based upon kindred ties of blood and common tradition, and between British and American peoples. And our legation in France will stand as a symbol of the friendship between British and French minds and hearts which has helped to make Canada what she is, and a never-ending friendship between these two great races."

"Alike in the old world and in the new, it is permanent friendship and goodwill which above all else Canada seeks for herself in relation to the countries, and between these countries and the British Empire, of the British nations to which she is so proud to belong. We are not without hope that our voice in these legations will be helpful towards that great end."

A Successful Experiment

Plan of Bringing British Harvesters to Canada Has Been Fully Justified

The Montreal Star in a reference to the British-miner-harvester scheme remarks that when the idea of bringing thousands of British miners, out of work in the Old Country, across the Atlantic to help with the Canadian harvest was first mooted it met with considerable cynical comment. Doubt was freely expressed as to the likelihood of success. "The protest of a very small but not without number of grumblers when they arrived in the West served to provide the cynics with more material for comment, but this has been overwhelmingly offset by the fact that the vast majority of the miners were well satisfied, did their work to the satisfaction of the farmers, and did not grumble. Now the first small contingent on their way home have arrived in Montreal and express themselves as very pleased with their experience. They are returning with money in their pockets and they have enjoyed their experience."

"So far, so good," continues the Montreal paper. "These miners will have good things to say about Canada when they reach England, but the bulk of the army that came over still remains in the West. It is probable that many of the British miners have already turned to pick and shovel work since the conclusion of the harvest. If these men can be persuaded to stay here Canada will have gained a substantial and very useful body of settlers who will be good citizens. Even if only a small percentage of them remain, however, the big experiment will still have justified itself. Those who do not without doubt let their kinsmen at home know why they are staying and also how they are getting on."

Goose Raising

Fall Is the Proper Time To Select Geese For Breeding Flocks

The autumn is regarded as the proper season to select geese for the establishment of a breeding flock. In a circular on goose raising, issued by the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, the author, Mr. A. G. Taylor, recommends selecting well developed birds from good flocks before the fattening period commences in the fall. Stock from this year's hatchings are not likely to do as well as birds a year older. The sexes should be housed together, even before New Year's, and should be kept so throughout the winter and the breeding season in the spring. Close housing is not required, such shelter as a rough shed is sufficient provided it is supplied with dry bedding and protection from draughts and storm. Circular No. 55, published by the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, gives as a good winter ration for geese, equal parts of barley and wheat and about twenty-five per cent. of green feed, such as clover or alfalfa hay. Cabbage, mangel, or turnips, finely cut up make an excellent green feed ration. The circular gives explicit information on feeding during the laying season, the methods to be followed in rearing the goslings, and marketing the stock.

Pat was trying to harness a mule to the cart and resorted to forceful language.

"Can I be of help to you?" asked a preacher who was passing.

"Yes," replied Pat. "Tell me how Noah got two of those beauties into the ark."

Will—"What's become of the pet woodpecker you used to have?"

Bill—"I sold him to an antique furniture dealer, and he's got the poor thing working six hours a day making worm holes in tables."

The young man may be loaded down with brilliant ideas and theories, but he will eventually find that he is not going to work very well unless he does.

Windbreak Needed Around Bee Hives

Not Only Protects Them in Winter But Prevents Drifting

Protection from strong winds is very necessary about the bee-yard. Not only is protection all important in winter time to shield the colonies from the cold piercing winds which so quickly exhaust animal heat and cause losses, but also in all other seasons in order to prevent the drifting of the bees and to facilitate the work in the yard, writes A. H. V. Birch, Bee Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ont.

All experienced beekeepers are agreed on the point that the importance of a good windbreak can hardly be overestimated. Some even consider it of more importance than packing and prefer a windbreak without packing to packing without a windbreak.

Though well packed colonies frequently die of exposure, therefore, in thinking about your preparations for wintering, also take the construction of your winter cases and the amount of packing required, do not forget that all important, thing—the windbreak. If in a short time, a cold wind whistles you are well clothed, what will it do during a winter to your unprotected colonies?

There are various kinds of windbreaks, some natural, others artificial. The natural ones are preferable and consist in protection from the north and west winds by thick woods, groves of trees, or dense brushwood. Artificial windbreaks, on the other hand, must be used where natural ones are not available or while they are being established.

Though a good impervious wind-breaker may be made by standing corn, broom or other such material against a fence on the windward side of the bee-yard, the artificial windbreak in most common use is that which is made of wood and which is similar to the snow-fences used by the railroads.

This fence is made in panels 12 to 14 feet long by 6 to 7 feet high, the boards of which are spaced 2 to 3 inches apart and nailed to 2 by 4 joists. In erecting this sort of windbreak, stakes should be driven into the ground and nailed to the braces to prevent the fences being overturned by strong winds.

Culmination Of Year's Work

Farmer Forgets Worry When Last Load Of Grain Is In

There is something very satisfying about having completed a task, but it is doubtful if anything gives the same delight and satisfaction as bringing in the last load of grain. It is the culmination of a season's efforts, the reward of faith in a kind providence to give seed-time and harvest. Preceding the bringing in of the last load there have been many days of toil in plowing, cultivating, sowing and reaping. Possibly a little worry has crept in as unfavorable weather or pests have threatened the crop. But all this is forgotten as the last load is being stored in the barn or in stock or forked into the machine. The satisfaction is all the greater if there is assurance that the yield will be high and the quality of grain of the best. While man has no control over the weather, he is a big factor in determining just what that last load will be.

Many Take Free Homesteads

Demand For Land in Western Canada Is On the Increase

An indication of the increasing interest and demand for homesteaded lands in Western Canada is given in the official figures for homestead entries for the first eight months of this year. From January 1st to August 31st a total of 8,618 entries were made on land offered free by the Canadian Government in blocks of 160 acres in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and in parts of British Columbia. This is an increase of 425 over the total number of entries made in the first eight months of 1927. For the period under review this year 348 entries have been made on homestead land in Manitoba, 2,811 in Saskatchewan, 4,976 in Alberta, and 483 in British Columbia. All homestead lands are offered by the Canadian Government to British subjects and those who declare their intention to become a British subject on payment of registration fee of $10.00, and performance of certain improvement and residence duties by the settler before the title to the land is granted. This homestead land is now considerable distance from the railways but there are also still millions of acres of good farm land near railways, markets and schools at prices from $15.00 an acre upwards.

Meat Prices to Soar

Ranchers in Western Canada Look For Expansion of Cattle Industry

Ranchers in Western Canada may prepare for the expansion of the cattle industry on an unprecedented scale, while Canadian housewives in common with those of the United States may expect a long period of high meat prices according to officials of the B.C. Department of Agriculture. The United States faces an acute shortage of meat, they say, and with 1,250,000 head of animals below normal, is looking to Canada to feed itself. This demand for beef across the border is being felt in Western Canada already with soaring meat prices and extensive plans for movement of live cattle to American points for fattening.

Aged Turk Loses Century Old Beard And Feels Young Again

Zaro Agba, at the age of 107, has sacrificed his mustache and beard for his country's good. Zaro holds a minor municipal job. He responded to the city clerk urging all employees to be clean shaven. It took Zaro more than a century to cultivate his splendid whiskers and he relinquished them with a sigh, but was consoled by the improvement it made in his appearance. He looked half a century younger.

Zaro thereupon decided to replenish his stock of wiles, three of whom have died of old age, leaving him only one. To his dismay he ran against the new law prohibiting polygamy.

In an interview Zaro explained his hopes for the future. He is eager to start life anew in a fresh job and improve his standard of living, he said.

Will Benefit Canadians

May Live In Canada and Work On U.S. Side Without Interference

Canadians, whether born in Canada or elsewhere, may live in the Dominion and work on the United States unhindered by existing United States immigration laws. This is the effect of the refusal of the Supreme Court of the United States to review the judgment of Mr. Justice Hazel of the New York federal circuit court in Buffalo some months ago, giving Canadians the right to commute across the border daily to transact their business.

Leave to appeal was asked by the United States department of immigration, and the Supreme Court journeyed without deciding whether the case was arguable. The Supreme Court decided it was not arguable, thus making the decision of the lower court supreme.

Peace River Country Fertile

Immense Area Of Good Farm Land Three Hundred Miles Northwest Of Edmonton

Three hundred miles north and west of Edmonton lies the Peace River Country, which now occupies so large a place in public attention as a new field for settlement and agricultural development. The area of the Peace River District is approximately 47 million acres. It is over six times as big as Belgium, and exceeds the combined area of the six New England States. It lies in the same latitude as portions of Scotland and Denmark.

The Peace River country enjoys a combination of favorable climate, moderate precipitation, and deep fertile soil. It lies in long easy slopes, watered by the Peace River and its tributaries, well drained and well adapted to cultivation. In the present season the crops in the Peace River District have been not only among the earliest in Western Canada, but among the earliest harvested. Yields of wheat in many instances have run as high as 67 to 72 bushels to the acre.

It will be remembered that it was in the Peace River District that Herman Truitt, in 1925, broke the wheat and oats both of which captured the world's grain championship at the 1925 International Livestock Grain and Hay Show at Chicago.

British Motorist Did Not Resist Damage To Car

Lieutenant-Colonel R. C. Fielding, D.S.O., told of an incident both amusing and peculiarly British. In backing his car into vacant place in a parking place in the West End he accidentally bumped into a vacant car and tore its mudguard. He left his card with that watchman to pass on to the owner of the damaged vehicle and avoid developments. In due course he received a letter from the injured party. This is how it ran: "Dear sir, your card which handed me by the car watchman in Avery Row stating that you had damaged the right-hand mud-guard of my car. I am only writing to tell you that the damage you have done to this mudguard has now made it the same as the other three, thus again balancing the design of the car. In face of this, I extend to you my apologies for causing you anxiety in the matter." And they say sportsmanship is dead.

Will Benefit Canadians

May Live In Canada and Work On U.S. Side Without Interference

Canadians, whether born in Canada or elsewhere, may live in the Dominion and work on the United States unhindered by existing United States immigration laws. This is the effect of the refusal of the Supreme Court of the United States to review the judgment of Mr. Justice Hazel of the New York federal circuit court in Buffalo some months ago, giving Canadians the right to commute across the border daily to transact their business.

Leave to appeal was asked by the United States department of immigration, and the Supreme Court journeyed without deciding whether the case was arguable. The Supreme Court decided it was not arguable, thus making the decision of the lower court supreme.

ANOTHER "HOLT" TRIUMPH

Two weeks ago we published in this paper an invitation urging you to investigate what HOLT COMBINED HARVESTERS were doing in your District.

We asked you to make comparisons between the SWATHER and WINDROW PICK-UP System of the HOLT method as against other means of handling grain, and also competitive machines.

You found that our statements were correct—that HOLT was the only 100 per cent perfect system—that users of this method had successfully harvested their crops while stocks were still out in the field—that their grain averaged as high as that gathered by any other method—that they had saved from ONE to THREE bushels per acre in handling and from 15 to 18 cents per bushel on operating costs.

That the ORIGINAL COMBINE --- the "Holt" --- wins again over all competitors and imitations.

That users are convinced that harvesting by the HOLT method is the solution of the farmers problems in Canada.

This is the reason why we urged you to investigate while the season was on and we trust you will get an order in early for your HOLT COMBINE FOR THE 1929 SEASON
